Funding...

The efforts of the Oceans for Youth Foundation are funded through grants and donations, with the help of royalties and licensing agreements for Supplied Air Snorkeling for Youth (SASY) and adults (SASA).

Captain Wayne Hasson, the president of the Oceans for Youth Foundation, invented Supplied Air Snorkeling for Youth (SASY) for his young children so that he could introduce them to the oceans. He saw how children thoroughly enjoyed exploring the oceans with SASY, and donated the patent and trademark rights to the Oceans for Youth Foundation.

In order to remain partially self-funded, the Foundation licensed the product to major manufacturers in the scuba industry, and the royalties are used to fund some of the projects for Oceans for Youth.

Additional funding is needed through individual gifts, corporate grants, private foundations and fund-raising events.

Your sponsorship will enable today's youth to discover and treasure, and someday protect, our planet's most critical resource: our oceans.
